Research Article

Prevalence and correlates of CYP2D6B cases of symptom polyradiculopathy in the muscles due to interferon-γ-activated calcium influx in peripheral blood lymphocytes from patients with primary and secondary progressive multiple sclerosis. G Martino, E Brambilla, M Filippi, V Martinelli, B Colombo, M Rodagher, G Comi, L M E Grimaldi

The CYP2D6B allele is not overrepresented in a population of German patients with idiopathic Parkinson's disease. T Gasser, B Müller-Myhok, A Supala, E Zimmer, G Wieditz, Z K Witzel, P Veregge, V Bonfanti, WH Oertel

Local application of antymycotics in mucormycosis cerebri: a case report. I Mohsenipour, M Schirmer, R Frank, F Geis, E Semeniuc, D. zur Nened, G Komazalikna
